

REV. JIM'S THOUGHTS AND PRAYERS

March 2018

Dear Friends,

I'm writing this letter on a cold February day. As I write, it's just days after the horrific school shooting that took the lives of 17 high school students, teachers and staff members in Florida. I'm at a loss for words.

Each day it seems we hear the news of another life changing event that occur in our community, nation, and the world. It's easy to become overwhelmed as we hear stories of senseless violence, abuse that violates the dignity of people, economic crisis, terrorism and threats of war. At times we answer a telephone call or start reading an email and wonder if it's news of a loved one struggling with sickness or struggle. Many days folks ask me, "Pastor, where is the Good News? Where is God in the messy, painful places of life?"

The longer I live, the more I wonder if at some level, in the midst of our human experience; we all struggle to find the answer to those gut wrenching questions. Where is the Good News? Where is God in the messy, painful places of life?" When the foundations of my life are rocked with pain and uncertainty, I often cry out to God with variations on those questions. Ultimately, the Holy Spirit brings me comfort and an answer from the words a dear pastor friend shared with me years ago. He said, "Remember, God is always there with us, and don't take my word for it, read the words of Psalm 23"!

The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want; He makes me lie down in green pastures. He leads me beside still waters; He restores my soul. He leads me in paths of righteousness for His name's sake. Even though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I fear no evil; for thy rod and thy staff, they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of my enemies; thou anointest my head with oil, my cup overflows. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life; and I shall dwell in the house of the Lord forever. -- Psalm 23 (New Revised Version)

Friends, we all know how painful it is to go through the valley of the shadow of death. We know death has many faces; sadness, disappointment, anger, illness, an unwillingness to forgive or be forgiven, loss of a job, hatred, broken trust, strained relationships. The list goes on. However, we also are assured God is always with us!

Since the day of the terrible shooting in Florida, some folks have asked me how God's Church can reach out to the world in the midst of tragedy and invite people to receive the Good News of God's love and the gift of eternal life. As I continue to pray for God's guidance and live out a personal response to that question. My prayers are focused as I wonder how the people of the United Methodist Church can be faithful to our mission to "make disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world "and how we will do that with "Open hearts. Open minds. Open doors."

These words from a letter Bishop Bickerton wrote to the churches of our Annual Conference in 2012 help guide my prayers, "If we are going to be faithful to the call God has placed on our lives, it is time to pray for a 'turnaround'. The future may look daunting, but the Holy Spirit at work around and within us can revive our spirit and our resolve to be the Church of Jesus Christ. The Bishop also encouraged every Christian to make a commitment that "Each one reach one for Jesus, but first begin with prayer." Finally, Bishop Bickerton invited us to be strengthened by these words from the Bible, "With God on our side like this, how can we lose?" – Romans 8:31b (The Message)

May we all be filled with comfort, hope, and a commitment to share God's love as we look forward to Easter.

Love and Hope,

+ Pastor Jim

To You Who Bring Small Children to Church

There you are sitting in worship or Bible study. Your child, or toddler, is restless. Perhaps they're even a little boisterous. You try to silence them, and nothing. You try to pacify them with food or toys, and nothing. Eventually, you resort to the last thing you wanted to do: you pick them up, and before a watching audience, you make the march out of the auditorium. All the while, you're a little embarrassed. Maybe you're a little frustrated too. You might even think to yourself, "There's no point in coming to church. I get nothing out of it because I have to constantly care for my kid."

I want you — you mothers and/or fathers — to know just how encouraging you are to so many. The little elderly woman who often fills alone beams with a smile at the sight of you wrestling with your little one. She's been there before. She knows how hard it can be, but she smiles because to hear that brings back precious memories. To see young parents and their small children brighten her day, and she may have just received bad news this week about her health, but seeing the vitality of young ones removes — if but for a moment — her fears.

The older man who always seems to be grouchy notices you too. He's always talking about how children in this day have no respect or sense of good. But, he sees you — a young family — in church, and you don't miss any gathering. Like clockwork, he can depend on the sight of you and your young family. You give him hope that maybe the church isn't doomed after all, because there are still young parents who love God enough to bring their restless children to worship.

Then there's everybody else. Some people will honestly become frustrated by noisy children in church. They have this warped idea that reverence includes absolute silence. It doesn't. When parents brought their children to Jesus, the disciples rebuked them (Matt. 19.13-15), but Jesus rebuked His disciples. He said, "Let the little children come to me and do not hinder them, for to such belongs the kingdom of heaven." The term translated "children" in Matthew and Mark is paidon. The root of the word "pedagogue" is from this word. It defined children of either an infant state, or more particularly, it was with reference to those who were half-grown and could be either males or females.

When Luke wrote his account of this narrative, he used the word brephos; which means "infants." Luke wasn't contradicting Matthew and Mark's account, because Luke wrote that they brought the infants "also" (Luke 18.15-17). They would have squirmed, maybe even cried. This was likely why the disciples rebuked the parents; as well as that they might have thought that the children were too young to understand the blessing Christ pronounced over them.

Bring your children to church. If you don't hear crying, the church is dying. As hard as it might be for you as a parent who's half-asleep, keep on doing what you're doing. You are an encouragement, and you're starting off your children's lives as you should.

Do you have a sporting event, a play, a special event that you would like to share with others so that they may come and cheer you on? Contact Betsy Van Tassel, Ginny Lewis or Marie Howard and we will see that is appears in the bulletin if you give us at least two weeks and a bad day?

The difference between a good day

ATTITUDE!

HOW TO HAVE A GOOD DAY EVERT DAY

“Have a good day!” We are all familiar with these words spoken almost automatically by clerks, waitresses, and friends. One especially trying morning the words stayed with me as I hugged a bag of groceries to the car. “Just how does one manage to have a good day?” I asked myself. Obviously I did not have the answer.

It came to me a few weeks later through a church newsletter that listed some practical suggestions for a basic daily program. I copied the on a card and they have helped me use my days more wisely. Perhaps they can help you, too.

- ⇒ Do something you do not want to do.
- ⇒ Do something you do want to do.
- ⇒ Be quiet for a few minutes for prayer, spiritual reading, or meditation.
- ⇒ Reach out in some way every single day to someone else.

Simple, maybe, but surprisingly effective. Not only do they help me, but reaching out to someone else 365 days a year helps me say “Thank You” to God for the many wonderful things He has done for me.
